

Sing Along!

Colors Everywhere

You can name the colors of a rainbow,
You can name the colors of the sky.
You can find the color of a flower,
And see the many colors of a butterfly.

Red and orange and blue and green,
Black and white and purple, too,
Pink and yellow and brown and more,
Make some colors that are just for you.

You can see the colors of the trees and leaves,
You can choose a color that is you.
You can name the colors in the rocks and streams,
Or change all the colors and make something new.

Yellow daisies and a wild red rose,
Violets of purple and lilies white as snow,
Pink little petals and leaves of gold,
See all the colors so bright and bold.

You can name the colors of a rainbow,
You can name the colors of the sky.
You can find the color of a flower,
And see the many colors of a butterfly.

REPEAT SECOND, THEN FIRST VERSE